WELCOME!

The Latin American Pilots' Forum initiated during the 17th IMPA Congress, which was held in Istanbul in 2004. The first meeting of the Forum was attended by representatives from pilot associations from Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Cuba, Ecuador, México and Uruguay. Nowadays, the Forum gathers representatives from pilots' organizations from Latin America who are members of the International Maritime Pilots' Association (IMPA).

The main objective of the Forum is the exchange of professional information and analysis of trends of piloting in the region. Subjects of discussion include: safety of navigation, operational procedures, maneuvering, pilot training programs, among others relevant to the maritime industry.

In 2023 the XI Latin American Pilots' Forum will be hosted by the Panama Canal Pilots' Association in Panama, multicultural country and a historical landmark, with a privileged geographical position that makes possible the meeting of the Pacific and the Atlantic Ocean through one of the engineering marvels of the world, the Panama Canal.

The Program includes conferences on subjects, such as, IMPA and its role at IMO, safety of navigation, use of new technology by pilots, pilot training programs, safe boarding and the Panama Canal. Additionally, there will be technical visits to the Panama Canal Authority's manned model training facility and the Agua Clara locks.

*We invite you to join us in Panama,
a spectacular destination.*
